SPRING ELECTIONS

SCHOOL TRUSTEES TO BE ELECTED APRIL 2—NO CITY ELECTION.

Friday, April 2, is school election day and the people of Glendale Union High school district will elect two trustees. The terms of Dr. A. L. Bryant, secretary of the board and Mr. Dwight Griswold expire this year. Dr. Bryant will be a candidate for reelection but Mr. Griswold will retire. It is likely that Mr. Irving H. Oliver of Tropico will be a candidate for the office in Mr. Griswold's stead. The other members of the High school board are C. O. Pulliam, president, C. W. Young of Eagle Rock and Dan Campbell of North Glendale.

On the Glendale city school board, the term of Mr. A. B. Heacock expires this year and it is supposed that Mr. Heacock will be a candidate to succeed himself. Dr. J. E. Eckles and John Todd are the other members of the city school board.

City elections are held every two years and there will be no city officials elected this year.

In case Casa Verdugo votes to annex to Glendale, there will be a special election called to vote on the question of receiving the new territory.

UNDUE ANXIETY CAUSED BY SHOOTING.

Many were the remarks which followed when it was rumored on Saturday afternoon that William Bode was shot. True, William Bode was shot, but not our William Bode.

On Saturday afternoon there were two William Bodes down at the Los Angeles river, one was swimming and the other shooting, and naturally when it was learned that William Bode was shot, everyone believed it to be the seventeen year old William Bode of 306 Orange street, Glendale, whereas, the edition of the evening papers, brought out the truths that it was fourteen year old William Bode of 1343½ Kellum avenue, Los Angeles.

The first Bode senior, of Glendale, heard about the affair, was when several of his friends came rushing into his back yard where he was working and exclaimed, "We thought you were shot." Young Bode answered that he wasn't sure, but he thought he wasn't. Then they brought a paper and found out who it really was.

The uncanny thing about the whole affair was that both these boys with the same peculiar name were at the same river, at the same time, and neither knew the other was there.

Neither of these boys has seen the other, but Bode senior said that he would pay Bode, junior, a visit at the hospital. In other words, William Bode is going to see William Bode.

HONOR QUEEN CANDIDATE.

Glendale and Tropico Knights of Pythias will give a free reception and ball in honor of Miss Florence Dominguez Appel, candidate for Queen of the 1915 carnival, Wednesday evening, March 24th, at the hall of the Glendale lodge, Third and Brand.

A large attendance is expected among whom Charles V. Stansbury, general chairman of the Knights of Pythias committee, Dr. T. J. Ruddy, business manager of the Knights of Pythias Queen, Stanley B. Wilson, orator and entertainer will be present. A number of the grand officers are expected, among them T. C. Koepp. In addition there are ten ladies in the Queen's court, all of whom will be present and attend the queen during the reception and dance.

The orchestra of the D. O. K. K. branch of the Knights of Pythias will give the concert and furnish music for the dancing, after which a banquet will be served by the local lodges. This is the last of the receptions tendered by the out of the city lodges to their Queen. All of the lodges will give a get together reception and ball Thursday night at Goldberg-Bosley hall in Los Angeles, at which time the public is invited. Gentlemen 50c, ladies 25c. The grand march on Thursday night will be led by Kenton A. Miller, grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias and Mabel Midgley, grand chief of the Pythian Sisters, and representatives from the Native Sons and Daughters, Knights and Ladies of Security, Pioneers of Southern California, and other organizations supporting Miss Dominguez Appel will be present in this final public affair.

Questions of ocean transportation may yet create a demand for the establishment of an inter-nation commerce commission.

GLENDALE TRUSTEES

CITY OFFICIALS CONSCIENTIOUS AND STRIVE TO DO RIGHT BUT NOT INFALLIBLE

The management of the Evening News has often stated that it is not the policy of the News to stand in with any faction or set of men, and that is strictly the policy of the paper. Just because that is so, the editor feels free to state that he denounces the little whisperings that are going the rounds of the city that the board of trustees are not capable business men. To be sure these gentlemen have not always done things just the way some others would have done them, but people of good judgment differ in the way of doing many things, and it is weak in us to criticize the trustees in their every act. These gentlemen were elected by the people to the office they hold, and they are just as good men to day as they were when elected, plus the several years experience in serving the people. The editor of the News has been in attendance at the meetings of the trustees for the past two years and it is his opinion that the members have been conscientiously in favor of legislating for the best interests of the city.

The writer has held such positions and he well knows it is impossible to suit everybody all of the time, and there is no sensible man who will expect a set of city officers to do everything according to his notions.

Someone arises and says, but, of course, the Evening News stands in with the city bunch on account of the printing patronage. The Evening News stands in with no bunch and is always ready to give value received for every job of printing we do for any body.

Members of the board of trustees have made mistakes, but why see nothing good in their acts just because a few mistakes have been made. Go to them in person and tell them in a gentlemanly way of their mistakes, and at the same time do not neglect to offer words of praise where it is due. We should do business together as full fledged men. Let us live above little petty jealousies.

SEVEN HUNDRED VOICES IN A CHOIR.

Seven hundred persons will sing in the choir for the Brown-Curry revival services, and an orchestra of seventy-five pieces will play at the evening sessions. Two grand pianos will be used.

The music committee, J. B. Beardsley, chairman, met last night, with a representation from nearly all of the twenty-three churches that will unite in the evengelistical services. Hereafter all committees will meet at the headquarters of the executive committee at 38 North Marengo avenue. Anyone who would like to join the choir may leave name and address at headquarters for Mr. Beardsley.

Mr. Curry will be in Pasadena for two or more rehearsals before the opening of the meetings, which will continue for at least four weeks.—Pasadena News.

FOOTHILL CLUB MEETS.

Mrs. L. D. Oliver of 1314 North Central avenue, assisted by Mrs. George E. Larkey, entertained the Foothill club on Friday afternoon. Easter lilies and wild spring blossoms were tastefully arranged, and made a beautiful setting for the afternoon. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses and the afternoon was very pleasantly spent in conversation and needle work, each lady having brought her embroidery. Little Miss Marie Oliver sang very sweetly "Star of the East" and Gavonia Geigoria, a five year old Italian laddie from Los Angeles, sang several selections from the Italian operas in a voice wonderfully clear and true for one so young.

The next meeting of the Foothill club will be with Mrs. J. E. Bassett, who will be assisted by Mrs. R. L. Phister. The meeting will be on April 16th.

Terhune formerly of Pasadena has just established the agency for the popular Chevrolet auto at the garage formerly known as the Broadway at 437 Broadway, Glendale, but which will be known in the future as the Chevrolet Garage. The Chevrolet Co., is now making deliveries on the new 1915 models, including the Baby Grand Chevrolet, 5 passenger, $1075, the Royal Mail Roadster at $960. The above cars are fully equipped, with self starter, electric lights, etc., and the new agency will be glad to demonstrate the superiorities of the popular priced Chevrolet cars upon request.

HOW SUNDAY WAS OBSERVED IN OUR CHURCHES

MANY ACCESSIONS TO CHURCHES AS RESULT OF BROWN AND CURRY REVIVAL—MINISTERS CONTINUE THE REVIVAL METHODS—CATHOLIC CHURCHES THROUGHOUT NATION PRAY FOR PEACE.

CATHOLICS PRAY FOR PEACE.

Rev. Father James S. O'Neill of the Holy Family Catholic church and the people of his parish joined yesterday with the sixteen million Catholics in the United States in prayers that peace may reign again upon earth. This was in accordance with the decree issued by Pope Benedict XV and the prayer for peace was written by His Holiness.

There was an almost continuous service at the Holy Family church. At the 10:30 mass, Father O'Neill preached an appropriate sermon, bringing out the fact that Christ shed his blood for all of us and therefore we are all brothers. Members of St. Vincent de Paul society for men, the Altar Guild and the Sacred Heart league conducted services throughout the day concluding at 4:30 with the Litany of the Saints and the Prayer for Peace.

These services were similar to those held in every Catholic church in this country and were very impressive. Surely such an unselfish and united supplication reached the throne of Grace.

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Mr. G. Frank Shelby, western field secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew gave an excellent sermon yesterday forenoon on "Service," showing we are called by our baptismal vow to a life of service; and that we do not enjoy our religion, or our prayers, or our communion because we do nothing for Christ or the church. He urged us all to do something, to be useful and happy Christians. Lent is for soul-saving in our own hearts as well as elsewhere, so we may bear fruit in days to come. Next Sunday is Palm Sunday. The church building will be decorated with palms. Last evening, there being no more meetings in the tabernacle there was held evening prayer and sermon. These evening meetings will be continued every Sunday evening until further notice. Do not forget "Good Friday's" services; the three hours beginning at 12 m., and Stainer's crucifixion by the choir in the evening. Beginning with Easter day there will be a "Mission" held in the church every evening with the exception of Saturday, and there will be such preachers as Dean MacCormack, Rev. George Davidson, Dr. Leslie E. Learned of Pasadena, and others. Plan to hear them.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

At the Presbyterian church yesterday, the return to the regular worship in its own house after a month of a more exciting program, was characterized by large attendance at all the services of the day and an enthusiasm above the average. The Sunday school attendance naturally gave great encouragement to officers and teachers and promises well for an enthusiastic and successful season of good work. The congregation that heard the Rev. Edmonds discourse on "Drifting," at the morning service, filled all the seats in the church proper and everflowed into the Sunday school room. The preacher with his accustomed earnestness, took his text from St. Paul's letter to the Hebrews, "We should therefore give heed to these things, that we have heard lest at anytime we drift away from them." The speaker had selected his text because as it seemed to him, there was no other in the scriptures so peculiarly appropriate to be dwelt upon at this time. The people had heard so recently the things that are essential to salvation, that now is the time to make fast the anchor so that there could be no drifting away from these things that alone could assure the soul's safety. The discourse was a powerfully logical appeal for church affiliation on the part of everyone, as a vital essential to spiritual life.

A large number of names of new members have been handed in to the church authorities and will soon be added to the roll of members.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Splendid services yesterday, a large attendance and deep interest. The Bible school was extended into the church service without intermission, with only a short sermon by the pastor. The Men's class had an attendance of forty-four, and the Women's was large. More than fifteen men have taken a stand for Christ and come into the church since this class was organized, a year ago, and others are on the verge.

Among the additions at the evening service were four Japanese, who have been taught and won by Mrs. Hagin. Their confession was taken by a native Japanese preacher in their native tongue which was very interesting to all present. They were all then baptized by the pastor, together with a number of others. Altogether, the entire service was almost as evangelistic, as powerful in results and as lengthy as a Brown and Curry meeting.

A strong effort is being made to have the Wednesday evening prayer meeting a very unusually large and helpful service. Let every member who reads this be there and bring somebody. The subject "What Is Jesus to You" will be continued.

The Women's class will have an afternoon session of work in the Bungalow on Friday. The object will be to supply clothing and supplies for Christ's Mission on San Pedro street in Los Angeles. If you have any cast off clothing or men's wear which can be utilized, take or send it to them.

WEST GLENDALE METHODIST.

The Sunday school was well attended and many new faces were noticed in the various classes as a result of the Brown and Curry meetings. The remark was frequently made, "O, it seems good to get back home again."

At the morning service the pastor took for his text Micah 6:8. "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" In the first place he dwelt upon God's revelation of the highest good, showing how God gave the commandments which reveal man's relation to God, to his fellow men and to himself. Then the patience of God in illustrating these three relations through the Old Testament scriptures and in the New Testament scriptures in the gift of Christ as the expression of God's highest revelation, and subsequently the gift of the Holy Ghost who comes to take of the things of Christ to show them unto us. It was shown that God has been patient with us as slow students in his school, and urged that we in order to be Godlike must likewise be patient and forbearing and charitable to those who are starting in the Christian life.

The sermon was closed with an appeal to those who had gone through these series of evangelistical services in which God had so wonderfully manifested Himself to realize in a measure the divine requirement, which is to "do justly." Having received light we are compelled by every law of our being to do right by those who know not God. And "to love mercy" in which it was shown that we must not only do merciful deeds but we must so be filled with God's love that we will love to do acts of mercy. Blessed is the man that loves his work. Then it was shown that when God enables us to do great things for him we are to steer clear of the temptation to be puffed up, and "to walk humbly with God." A young girl from a home of poverty went to college while her poor father and mother toiled and paid her way; on commencement day she delivered the valedictory address received her diploma and took it to her mother and said, "Mother, this diploma belongs to you." So we must bring our lives to Christ and in humility give Him the praise for all that we are and ever hope to be. In this way Enoch humbly walked with God and was not for what God took him.

The baptismal service was administered and a number of members were received into the church.

The Methodist Brotherhood will meet in the church tomorrow evening. It is desired that a full attendance be given, and a hearty welcome is waiting for those who are not members.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Baptists of San Fernando valley are planning extension work which will incorporate the virtues of the laymen's gospel team work and also the diffusion of Bible knowledge along the line of the great fundamentals. Some fifty have already banded themselves together in dedication to this work and a special meeting is called for Thursday evening. The local Baptist pastor will have charge.

There were two inspiring services yesterday and those who were prepared for baptism upon confession of their faith in Christ, were immersed. It is planned to give the entire service of next Lord's day evening to

THE BASIS OF PROSPERITY.

The real basis of prosperity is broad-mindedness. Prosperity is of man's earning. Ever since the original "ultimatum," which was that man should toil for daily bread, the diligence with which men have done this has been the measure of prosperity. Brain work, management, early became an important factor in man's daily toil. The civilizing process has been mainly a process of systematizing the daily toil of men. As this toil has become organized every phase of every industry has constantly been under the inspection of active eyes and shrewd brains, and every improvement was a mental picture before it was a fact.

Prosperity as we know it today would be impossible without co-operation and organization. Except in a natural paradise a single isolated man could not provide himself the comforts, luxuries, harmonies that communities enjoy, by dint of eight hours of labor daily. That is why the statement can be made that the mixture of brains with work has brought about prosperity, and that the measure of a nation's prosperity is a nation's mentality.

Correct solutions of mechanical problems are important, but more important still are correct solutions of the moral problems. Without a moral code definitely laid down and accepted by a community co-operation in effort is a hard thing to secure. The wonderful record of the United States as a commercial power can be attributed to one single moral doctrine more than to any other one thing, and that doctrine is, "that all men are created free and equal." That statement is the slogan of the United States. It is the one fact about this country that no one ever forgets once he has heard it.

[illegible] that all men at birth are [illegible] importance in the sight of [illegible] truth of this is self-evi[illegible] he fathers of our laws [illegible] the broad-minded man. [illegible] man not only recognizes [illegible] of it, but rejoices in the [illegible]t. Though he may strive for a high position in affairs he likes to feel that success is his not because he is especially smiled upon by God, above other men, but that his success was worked for and was deserved, and that smilar success will reward similar efforts of others. The manly man likes to feel that he paid the price of whatever he secures.

Permanent success is built on truth taken in its broadest sense, and the psychological equivalent of truth may be said to be broad-mindedness. The man who boosts his own business by knocking worthy competitors is not building on truth and will enjoy a temporary success, if any. The man who builds his business on "Live and let live" policies builds a permanent structure. He is like unto the man which built his house upon a rock.

A motto like "Caveat Emptor" could not be expected to stand any longer than any other house built upon the sand. And it has not stood. It has been relegated to the scrap heap by modern business men. The opposite of that motto, "Adiuvetur Emptor," which means, "Let the buyer be served," can be expected to stand forever, for it is, shall we say—a house built upon a rock? No, rather it is a rock itself, upon which any number of houses can be built with safety.

The businesses of George Peabody, William Morris, Marshall Field were built upon this rock of Service. Americans have learned the lesson. And we find a newspaper substituting the beautitudes for ordinary business policies, stocking manufacturers guaranteeing wearing qualities or new pairs, a men's furnishings retailer instructing his clerks to "sell customers what they enter the store to buy and to not attempt to push sales," and so on ad infinitum.

These two principles of, first, friendliness and fairness to competitors, second, square dealing with customers, are at the bottom of business prosperity in the United States. They are not universally observed, but in the measure that they are the country is prosperous. Increase their popularity and you will increase individual and collective prosperity. —Judicious Advertising.

The rivers of the United States carry to tidewater every year 270,000,000 tons of dissolved matter and 513,000,000 tons of suspended matter. This total of 783,000,000 tons represents more than 350,000,000 cubic yards of rocks, or 610,000,000 cubic yards of surface soil.

Mrs. Myrtle Utzman who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Frank Winslow of 1629 Ruth street, during her illness, was called to her home in San Fernando Saturday because of the serious illness of her son, Mr. Willis Utzman who has contacted pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Wyman of North Maryland avenue with Mr. Edward Leay of San Rafael street motored to San Diego today where they will remain several days viewing the fair and other points of interest.

Mrs. Oliver E. Wright of 1649 Ruth street spent Sunday in Sawtelle where she was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Mary Wilhelm of West Sixth street. Mrs. Wright also enjoyed hearing Rev. Mrs. Hermiston of the Chapel car Immanuel now at Van Nuys, preach at the Sawtelle Baptist church.

A SONNET TO SPRING.

We welcome thee again, sweet spring,
As nature in her gayest dress,
Stands ready to receive her guest;
Come to us now, and sunshine bring,
Thou best of all the seasons, Spring,
All nature joins in grateful song,
The birds are happy all day long,
As though to give their monarch, Spring,
A hearty, joyous, welcome in.
In all creation may we see,
Glory and beauty in everything,
Throughout all time 'twill ever be,
All things will praise the God of Love,
Ruler of Earth and Heaven above.

REGULATION OF YOUTH.

All of us recognize the truth of this latter observation—that for its own good youth has to be regulated. It cannot be safely left to itself to be shaped and admonished by experience, because experience comes too late. Those who know what is best—the parent, the teacher, the school authorities—have to impose their judgment on many mothers, and of these dress is not a negligible concern. The young will not believe it, no matter how many times reiterated, that youth is in itself its greatest charm and that lavish adornment detracts from that charm. However, they may be made to see that to dress elaborately for school and its functions and for business is to transgress the canons of good taste, which has its foundations in appropriateness. There may be neither rhyme nor reason in custom which rules decollete to be vulgar by daylight but chaste by artificial light. But since it is feminine nature to be sticklers for style why not take advantage of the trait and teach girls the good form of dress at school, thus scotching overdressing with the taboo of fashion?

BE KIND TODAY.

Less spent on the dead and more spent on the living would bring about many happy results. Hearts are breaking, loved ones wait, and tears flow all because of the withholding of kind words unspoken and letters never sent. Behold the sad mistakes of others, their remorse, and profit by the same before it is too late. Today, now, speak the loving word, send the tender message, write the letter you put off day by day, and don't wait until you forget it or until bitter memories haunt you.

WHAT THEN?

We crave for years, for fame and wealth,
And oh, how many things beside!
With home and comfort, peace and health,
Dissatisfied.

But should we reach the heights of fame
Among our trusted fellow men,
With laurels won, 'tis but a name;
What then? What then?

And wealth, perchance it may be ours,
The outcome of long toilsome years;
We recognize its ruling powers
To still our fears.

And though our days may number high,
They may be four score years and ten;
'Mid fame and wealth to live and die;
What then? What then?

—G. D. Jones, in Christian Herald.

Mexico has had seven presidents since Diaz, but none of them "took," says a paragrapher. Mistake there. They took all they could get away with.

WHY HE WAS TAGGED.

Two Marylanders, who were visiting the National museum at Washington, were standing in front of an Egyptian mummy, over which hung a placard bearing the inscription, "B. C. 1187."

Both visitors were much mystified thereby. Said one:

"What do you make of that, Billy?"

"Well," said Bill. "I dunno, but maybe it was the number of the motor car that killed him."—Chicago Journal.

HOME LABOR FIRST.

While we are advocating patronage of the home merchants first, and the cause is a meritorious one, let us not overlook home labor which is the very foundation of local progress and prosperity and the basis of business success for the home merchant.

There is no class of citizenship so beneficial and helpful to municipal life as the laboring men. When home labor is busy there is plenty of buying in the local business establishments and when labor is out of employment none are more quickly affected by the result than the merchants. The home labor should be considered not only in matters of public work but in the construction of residences and sidewalks, of painting and all kinds of improvements. The laboring man spends most of the money in providing for his family and his dollars are a most potent factor in the life and energy of any community. Therefore, you should couple with "patronize your home merchant first" that other equally important slogan, "Give home labor the preference." Any city that is sufficiently loyal to home institutions to give home enterprise and home skill the first consideration is bound to grow and prosper. Let every city get behind home labor and home business and we shall be surprised at the advancement the city will make under such a regime.—Alhambra Advocate.

AT THE CHURCHES.

baptism. A short address on the significance of this divine audience will be followed by what promises to be the largest baptismal service in the history of the local Baptist church.

At the evening service Rev. Troy spoke on some of the neglected facts of the cross.

The cross has prospective as well as retrospective value. Abel and Abraham were justified by faith and they with unknown multitudes of the centuries before the cross looked forward toward Calvary and with prospective faith saw the lamb of God which beareth away the sin of the world.

Heb. 9:24-28 speaks of the three great appearings of Christ. He is now appearing in heaven for us. On Calvary He appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. To them that wait for him He will appear a second time apart from sin. Sing 132. Calvary is one of three great appearings of Christ.

The cross of Christ meant the fulfillment of the law and the settlement of the penalty of the sins of the world. There is now only one sin that can damn a soul and that is the rejection of Jesus Christ.

The cross of Christ meant the sealing of the legacy of the New Testament. In this legacy we have the remission of sins, the gift of the Holy Ghost and eternal life.

The cross of Christ marks off the Mosaic dispensation from the Christian dispensation. There is no dispensation of the Holy Spirit properly called. The business of the Holy Ghost is not to speak of himself but of Christ. We are Christians during this dispensation. We are in Christ. The Holy Spirit would not speak of Himself or advertise Himself. John 16:13. The more we have the Holy Spirit the more we speak of Christ. We are in the church of Christ and this is the Christian dispensation. There are only seven dispensations. The seventh is the Sabbath or rest for the people of God. See Gen. 2:1-3; Heb. 4.

The cross of Christ made possible the church of Christ which is composed of both Jew and Gentile. The church is the bride of Christ.

The cross of Christ did away with John's baptism which was the baptism of repentance and made possible the baptism in the name of Jesus which stands for the death, burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ. See Acts 19:1-7.

The coming of the Holy Spirit was made possible by the cross of Christ. The sprinkling of blood of goats and calves made possible the presence of the Shechinah in the temple of the Old Testament. The shed blood of Christ on Calvary made possible the coming of the Holy Spirit into the hearts of blood washed saints. We are now the temple of the Holy Ghost. It was expedient for Christ to go away, that his blood be shed, in order that the Holy Ghost might come.

The cross of Christ is the only way back to God. Never by Sinai's mount can man come back to God. Never with the stones of the law can any man climb to heaven. Only by the way of the cross is the approach to the living and holy God. The cross of Calvary casts its shadows across the ages. Every chapter, verse, word and letter of the sacred Book should be printed in crimson blood. The Bible is blood soaked. Cut it and it will bleed.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Sunday school was at the regular hour and a good attendance was there.

At the morning service about sixty new members were received into the church, some by letter, some by confession of faith and some with baptism. There had been a number of those joining the church baptised by immersion on Saturday evening, the baptistery at the Christian church being used. The whole morning hour was taken by the receiving of the new members, and there was not time for the pastor to preach the sermon which he had planned.

The evening service was in charge of the new Gospel team of about thirty men, who have made Brother Ed Lee their leader, and who each gave testimony of what Christ had done for him. At the close of the service, one man publicly gave his heart to God as a result of the witnessing of these men. Six others were also received into the church.

On Friday night there will be a banquet and public reception for new members at the church, at which fully five hundred are expected to attend. This will be free and all new members are especially requested to come and get acquainted. It is also expected that there will be at least three hundred out to the prayer meeting on Wednesday evening.

LOCAL PEOPLE IN SUNDAY AUTO ACCIDENT.

Tom Hawkins, who is employed at the Barnhardt blacksmith shop in Glendale was unfortunate enough to get in the Sunday auto accident list Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins were enjoying a pleasant trip yesterday afternoon on the road between Anaheim and Santa Ana, when Mr. Hawkins stopped along the side of the road to inflate one of the rear tires. Just as he had killed his engine a large touring car going at a high rate of speed whirled by a load of hay and struck the rear of Mr. Hawkins' machine, overturning it on both Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins, the latter being very severely injured, having one rib broken, leg fractured and a large gash in her back, while Mr. Hawkins escaped with a number of severe bruises. Mrs. Hawkins was left at Santa Ana, where she will remain until well enough to be moved to her home in Glendale. The machine was temporarily repaired at Santa Ana so that Mr. Hawkins returned home with it. One peculiar incident of the affair was the fact that the Hawkins' pet Spitz dog, which was occupying the back seat was caught under the overturned auto but was in no way injured. From the description of the large car which collided with the Glendale couple, Santa Ana officials think that the owner will soon be apprehended and forced to pay Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins the damages incurred by the collision.

HOW TO REMOVE BAD TAR SPOTS.

The too generous deposit of tar upon the highways as a dust preventative very often results in the serious damage of an automobile's appearance in the form of tar spots or stains upon the body work. A good remedy for this disfigurement is as follows: First, if the car is dusty, hose down where the tar is sticking, preferably with lukewarm water. Dry off with a leather by dabbling, make no attempts to pass the leather to and fro across the surfaces. Having done this take a piece of some soft materials—such as the best woolen waste or linen—and charging it with vaseline or unsalted butter, rub the splashes until they disappear. It will be found necessary to change the rag frequently. Use plenty of grease, and wash the car down with lukewarm water and some body soap. On no account leave the car standing with the spots on longer than is necessary, or they will permanently mark the varnish.

NO BEAT FOR HIM.

Young Giles, eager to join the force came to New York to pass the necessary medical examination. This he easily did and the next day he was interviewed by a high official.

"Well, my man," said the latter, "you look a promising sort of fellow. Where were you educated?"

"Oh," said the recruit. "I was educated at a public school."

"Ah! And you have good general knowledge, I hope."

"Oh, yes."

"I wonder can you tell me for example how many miles it is from New York to Boston?"

At this the recruit became nervously agitated, and at length he blurted out:

"Look here if you're going to put me on that beat I'm done with the force."—Pittsburgh Telegraph.
